VICTORY NEAR FOR 5-CENT FARE FROM CITY TO SEA

Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company Will Be Brought to Book Before the State Railroad Commissioners on Monday Afternoon.

The Evening World's crusade to establish "a five-cent fare from the city to the sea" is up for a hearing on Monday forenoon before the New York State Railroad Commission. The Board will convene in its metropolitan headquarters, No. 1 Madison avenue, and the session promises to be-exceedingly interesting.

Lawyer Stephen C. Baldwin, the able young Brooklyn attorney, will make the principal argument for the people.

the double-fars outrage of the BrookI'm Rapid Transit Company:
June 2-The fight for a "five-cent
fare from the city to the sea" begun
in The Evening World with the organization of the Five-Cent Fare League; indorsed by Frederick B. De Berard, of the Merchants' Association;
A. A. Hill, of the Merchants' Association;
M. Hamilton and other representatives of Manhattan organizations concerned
in civic righteouwness.

June 13-Central Federated Union, with a membership of 30,000, passes a resolution in support of the five-cent
fare fight.

June 13-Charles B. Storer, of the of coursel for the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company. Mr. Stevenson was his chief deputy when he was Comptroller. The B. R. T. has been so enthusiastic for the proposed loop that its enthusiasm almost amounted to hysteria.

The heavy property holders of the east side can see only one benefit from the construction of the loop, and that accrues solely to the B. R. T. It would give that company, whose disregard of the public has been so flagrant, a firm foothold in Manhattan. It would give Williamsbury Bridge. They contend that if a Brooklyn man wished to reach that if a Brooklyn man wished to reach the Manhattan terminal of the Williamsbury Bridge.
